

NOTICE OF RETRACTION

The Journal regretfully retracts the following paper:

Pertanika J. Soc. Sci. Hum. 24(2) Jun. 2016: pp. 855-872.

Symptoms of Hysteria Among School-Going Adolescents in Malaysia: A Conceptual Study from the Perspective of Islamic Psychology, AUTHOR: Fariza Md Sham

Duplicate Publication in a non-English Language Journal

In 2016, Pertanika detected a breach of scientific integrity by the author(s) of the above paper with the publication of the above-mentioned article. It was discovered that the author(s) had submitted a paper for intended publication in Pertanika (2016) that had very close similarity with a paper that had been already published in a non-English Journal, earlier in (2014) without any cross-referencing.

This was investigated. The conclusion was reached that the author(s) had not done sufficient justice to the integrity of Pertanika.

The author(s) apologize that the paper published earlier (2014) in a non-English language journal was erroneously submitted to Pertanika in 2015.

The author(s) have requested that their paper be retracted from this issue of Pertanika Journal of Social Sciences & Humanities.

Editorial Expression of Concern

To preserve scientific integrity, Pertanika has retracted the above paper.
